

Abstract

~~The invention relates to a~~ A method and device for ~~the~~ analysis of reaction media containing one or more cells comprising one or more cells, which. This method and device can be used to perform an automated high-throughput analysis.